Why Systems Advisers Group?

The success or failure of any business systems project depends greatly on the experience of the implementation partner you chose to assist you in the project.

Systems Advisers Group has been successfully partnering organisations to deliver business solutions for more than 18 years in 50 countries - we bring a deep wealth of knowledge and experience to your systems implementation. Headquartered in Europe and with Centres of Excellence in Europe, Africa, Asia Pacific, North America and Latin America, we have one of the largest resource pools of any global Microsoft Dynamics™ partner - bringing you local expertise combined with global reach.

How does our business model work for you?

It's common knowledge that many ERP projects fail to deliver and fall prey to overrun and cost inflation. So how can Systems Advisers Group's business model reduce risk, increase quality and reduce cost for your Microsoft Dynamics™ implementation?

We focus on reducing TCO since the true cost of any system is in its on-going use. Our methodology is designed to ensure that we get it right and build solutions that truly deliver for your business.

We leverage the entire organisation on all our projects. This enables us to focus our senior consultants only on high level implementation tasks to really reduce your implementation costs.

We build for tomorrow as well as today and we are the only Microsoft Dynamics™ AX partner willing to offer you a 5 year fixed price upgrade guarantee to prove it.

We invest for delivery success we don't waste money on fancy offices around the globe but we do invest and leverage technology, and infrastructure to enable us to leverage our global capacity to do more for your organisation at lower cost. In the recent past we have invested over $1.5m in building a truly 'state of the art' delivery infrastructure.

Our approach means that the Delivery team is predominantly senior level consultants. Ultimately whatever the delivery approach, you rely on the knowledge and capacity of the consulting team you work with. Our involvement in writing Microsoft Dynamics™ AX training materials for Microsoft, escalation projects and core development is evidence of our reputation.

Our strategic relationship with Microsoft benefits your organisation. Over the last 7 years our Global Team has been working closely with Microsoft to provide outsource services around Microsoft Dynamics™ AX and this close technical relationship benefits you since we are able to employ the very latest tools and technologies in your organisation.
