Key Work by Training Team

Better Training Methodology

- We use the standard Microsoft Official Curriculum (MOC) but enhance the quality of training by including additional conceptual background whenever necessary, so that participants have a complete and deep understanding of Microsoft Dynamics™ AX.

Real World Experience

- Unlike most training institutes, our trainers are involved in real-life implementations - this ensures that the course delivery isn't purely theoretical, but includes real-life scenarios.

Both these factors have contributed towards Microsoft awarding us contracts to rework the entire Training Curricula for their AXU (AX University) as well as developing training material based on country localisations.

Microsoft AXU (AX University) & Training Material

- Systems Advisers Group has developed AXU (AX University) Training content for Trade & Logistics, Production, Projects, etc.

- Developed Localised Training Content for Microsoft Dynamics AX based on Localisation for India & Brazil.
- Re-Wrote Microsoft Official Curriculum Training Content for East European Market.

Systems Advisers Group has been able to capitalise of these strengths to provide a complete, client based training program which stands apart because of the experience and quality with which it is delivered.

Thank you all for the dedication and high quality content delivered. We hope many more opportunities will come in the future for us to take our partnership even further. I am sure the Brazilian AX ecosystem - including MS, our partners and customers will be most glad we have your presence locally.
